Goat's head System Lords come in all shapes, sizes and temperaments. The one thing they do have in common is that all the women are beautiful and all the men good-looking. With his handsome features and muscular physique, Steve Bacic is the perfect choice to play a new System Lord, Camulus, the Celtic god of war. Fortunately, he has the talent to back up those good looks. No stranger to Sci-Fi fans, Bacic portrays Telemachus Rhade on Andromeda. The actor's feature film credits include X2: X-Men United, The 6th Day and Hardball, while on TV he has guest-starred on such shows as The X-Files, Millennium, Call of the Wild and DaVinci's Inquest. Bacic also appeared as Major Coburn in two episodes of Stargate SG-1, Maternal Instinct and The First Ones. Funnily enough, this nearly worked against him when it came to the role of Camulus.

"The Stargate producers have some reservations about bringing
